Misses Edna and Sarah Carroll delightfully entertained the home Thursday, both morning and afternoon. The guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and invited to the Living Room. There places were found by drawing daily Tally Cards, a miniature George Washington. The game was artistically decorated in cut flowers appropriate for the George Washington season. Right tables were prepared for heart dice. After a number of progressions hearts were put aside for the delightful refreshments, consisting of chicken salad and cranberry ice. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. H. Glenn and Miss Orey Corbitt. The guests at the Morning Party included married friends of the hostesses and several others who were present. Afternoon were teachers of the Chester Public Schools and business women.

Aluminum Double Boiler 75c for Friday and Saturday. Chester Hardware Company.

An interesting situation developed in the senate Tuesday over a bill by Senator Hart, of Ohio, to provide for a constitutional amendment to permit York county to vote on the question of relieving new manufacturers from taxation for a period of five years. The interesting part was that nearly half the counties of the State began to hurry to get aboard the bill. Amendments were offered for Sumter, Kershaw, Cherokee, Lancaster, Abbeville, Darlington, Union, Chesterfield and Chester.

Heavy Loss By Fire.

A heavy loss was that of Mr. Adam S. Presley—Wednesday morning, when his home and all its outbuildings, with the exception of a crib, were destroyed. The fire had gained considerable momentum when noticed, there being no one at home at the time except Miss Annie Presley.

Mr. Presley's home is located about six miles from Chester on the Wilkesburg road, and was a substantial two-story house, being one of the best homes in that section of the county.

Mr. Presley was in York county at the time of the fire and his nephew, Mr. Lucius Presley, went for him. While returning home Mr. A. S. Presley, who was driving his car, lost control of same and it turned over running both the Messrs. Presley under it. Miss helped arrived the car was still in gear and the wheels were in mid-air turning at a high rate of speed. The car was taken off the two gentlemen by several negroes. Mr. Lucius Presley received a gash on his cheek and bruised his leg, but not seriously. It is stated that Mr. A. S. Presley was not injured.

Mr. Presley's loss by fire is probably amount to between twelve and fifteen thousand dollars with only $2,500 insurance.

Civic League Met.

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic League was held in the C. P. Church Monday afternoon, February 19th.

The president announced that March is the month for payment of dues and for the annual election of officers for the year was elected from the floor: Mrs. R. H. McFadden; Mrs. C. M. McLeaster; Mrs. A. J. Holman. It is earnestly desired that there will be a full attendance at the next meeting.

It was decided to send a box from the League appropriate for St. Patrick's Day to the soldiers at U. S. Hospital 26, Greenville, S. C. Contributions for this will be sent to Mrs. R. R. Moffat.

The matter of closing stores for one afternoon of each week during the summer months was discussed, and it was decided that the League make an effort to have this put into effect for the coming summer season.

SOMETHING DOING TONIGHT.
Mr. Pin Passes By and it is Hoped That He Will Continue to Pass By—All the Local Shriners are Gearing in High and Will Wear their Pins—Tickets Going Fast.

It begins to look as if a full house will witness "Mr. Pin Passes By," the local talent play to be given at the Chester Opera House tonight, Feb. 26. The cast is an exceptional good one and, as is well known, the play is most excellent. The local Shriners are going in strong for this play and they say they are putting on all the friends who mean that a grand old evening awaits those who sit down.

Reserved seats are on sale at The Chester Drug Company and are going fast. Pote Davidson and Shriners Jim Key and Abraham Hellman have been as busy as bees in a tail bucket all day getting things in readiness. When asked about the heat at the house tonight they say that they are installing a speedometer and will keep it hanging right around 70 both up hill and down hill.

Shriners Chaucer's Raketrax, who plays a leading role (or roll) was up all last night practicing his part on top of the Pryor Hospital. The patients bitterly complained of the "owl howl" but to no avail.

Leslie Myers, who plays a stellar role, whatever that is, is also spent a restless night. From a capable source it is learned that he has an accumulation of postmaster mail which has been hanging fire every since he got mixed up with this play. It is stated that he has advised the postmaster general and the president to defer action of the appointment of a Chester postmaster until he gets over tonight's night.

Boys Bankhead, who plays the part of Caraway King, is somewhat miffed at The Glen-Albani Motor Company, because they have refused to let him demonstrate the Lincoln Sedan lately. When it comes to safety Dr. Robt. Abell and Attorney Pleign, proprietors of the above mentioned motor company, believe in it when it comes to the dollar, hence their refusal to let Royce drive the Lincoln. They felt that if Mr. Pin Passes By on the mind of Royce he would drive that Lincoln into a tree. In fact Royce got his Sunday school lesson and Mr. Pin mixed lately and the report is that he faintly, pulling the pulpit over on top of his head.

Miss Mamie McCoy, who plays the part of Anne, would have been fired if she continued to hold her position, notwithstanding the fact that she has mixed her part of the play with several important letters she has written for Mr. Caraway during the past two weeks.

On Monday, February 26th, we will wash automobile bearing Numb. C-841 absolutely free of charge. The party owning automobile bearing this number has only to bring it to our place of business and we will clean it for good all-over without charge. Watch our ad every week for this offer. You may be next.

Others taking important part in the play are Mesdames W. R. Wallace, Fitz Hardin and J. R. Carson. The reader will notice that all of the latter mentioned are Mesdames so The New positively refuses to make any comments as to them. All three have living husbands and the writer does not care to be forced to out-run either of the three, including Fitz Hardin.

Those who attend the play tonight are requested to wear loose clothes. If you wear tight ones you are going to bust something.

Get your tickets while they are high—only a few more left. The program, which will be handed out tonight at the Opera House, were printed by The News but we want it distinctly understood that we are not responsible for the jokes appearing therein. Some of them are funny, in fact it was shocking to have to print them and we regret exceedingly that they were not corrected. However, these things will happen once and a while and we will have to make the best of it this time.

A Lot of Good Kentucky Mules will arrive Saturday Morning. Call at our stables and see them. Wylie & Co.

AMERICA'S ABBEY

TO BE BUILT SOON

$10,000,000 Cathedral Will be Higher Than Washington Monument.

Plans for immediate completion of a great American national cathedral, larger than Westminster Abbey and rivaling the celebrated structures of Europe, were announced recently at the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington.

Costing $10,000,000, and with its central tower rising above the Washington monument, the great edifice is planned to take in the hearts of Americans the place which the old abbey occupies in Britain, the final resting place of the celebrated dead and a "way of prayer" for Christ in the capital of the nation.

The plans contemplate more than a diocesan cathedral; they embrace a national shrine.

Although the construction of a cathedral on the heights of Mount St. Alban, in the northwest section of Washington, has been going on slowly for some time, it was not until very recently that it was decided to raise the funds to complete the edifice immediately as a national undertaking.

Making an announcement, the Rt. Rev. Alfred T. Harding, Bishop of Washington, pointed out that at the last general convention of the Episcopal Church last August unanimously adopted a resolution which "commends the erection without delay at the capital of the nation a great cathedral to witness to the spiritual ideal of America."

Beginning in a comparatively small way, the first Bishop of Washington, the late Dr. Henry Yates Satterlee, made it his life's work to acquire and pay for the site, which he gave until now it comprises sixty-four acres.

The cathedral was designed by one of the greatest British architects, the late George F. Bodley, and his American associate, the late Henry H. H. H. It has been pronounced one of the most beautiful in the world.

It will be seen that in its great proportions the cathedral will be larger than Westminster Abbey, its whole length, outside measure, that will be 500 feet; its width 135 feet. Its great central tower will rise to 280 feet and its twin front towers will be 195 feet tall. The massive central tower, erected on the great eminence, will have an elevation of 124 feet above the city of Washington, making it the most conspicuous and commanding object in the capital.

Sweet Charity.

GOOD LOOKS AND DIET.

By Brice Holden, M. D.

If the teeth deteriorate absorption of the jaw bone takes place. Thinning of bone causes the face to sink in, with resulting looseness of the skin.

It is, therefore, obvious that good looks, in so far as they depend upon the maintenance of good teeth, call for a diet rich in lime, which the teeth require for their nourishment. Eggs, cheese, milk, fruits and vegetables are the foods richest in lime.

Phosphorus is another chemical substance which the teeth require for proper growth, and it may also be obtained from such foods as eggs and cheese.

Phosphorus has been shown to be a very important element in our food. Animals kept on a diet poor in phosphorus suffer from changes in the nerves and muscles; the skin is also damaged and the animals lost their fur; they also grew old prematurely.

The first great sign, normally when a diet rich in phosphorus was resumed, was the fact that the animals, when fed on phosphorus, had a diet rich in phosphorus.

ash was substituted they lost their excessive fat.

The moral of all this is that very stout people, who are also bald, often owe their condition to a diet poor in phosphorus. They are really suffering from an impairment of nutrition. This kind of baldness may be regarded as an evidence of partial old age—a kind of local senility as it were.

Practically, it has been found that these people reduce in size and regain their hair when put upon a diet rich in phosphorus. The phosphorus compounds occur in large amounts in milk, potatoes, meat, cereals, and notably, particularly plums, apricots, cherries and grapes.

It is, therefore, fair to say that good looks, in so far as they depend upon the maintenance of normal proportions and fine hair call for a diet rich in phosphorus.

The most powerful radio plant operated by the Marconi Company is to be built in Vancouver, British Columbia. This plant will give direct service to England and Australia.

GERMANY'S MONEY POWER.

The New York Tribune recently makes the recent rise in the mark an indication that Germany has been trying to compel her inability to pay the French indemnity and that consequently, the French invasion of the Ruhr was justified. But, since the great German industrial agent, is pointed to as the man responsible for the tremendous depression in the German money market, as well as for the improvement now set in, "it can hardly be a coincidence," says the Tribune, "that while Stinnes and his group were able to profit by the decline of the mark it went down and now that they can profit by its rise it goes up. It has long been recognized that the true allies of the German Government is to these men rather than to the German Nation, and that the Government's financial policy has worked in their interest. While they could export profitably, they encouraged the decline of the mark. As soon as they had to import they saw a chance for vast profits if they could force the mark up. Just as in the decline they were much concerned over enormous profits to themselves and obvious of the hardship and ruin which the depreciation was working upon the rest of the German people, so now in the rise they look greedily upon their expected profits and care little for the reaction in Germany."

It cannot be claimed, The Tribune holds, that the rise is the natural manifestation of an economic law, and is maintaining that despite the lack of authentic news from Berlin about the methods or intentions of the Government, one thing is certain—the weekly billions of paper marks still are being printed. No matter how much the Government may want to stop the process, evidently the directors of the Reichsbank are aware of this, as their negotiations have been reported as a protest against the Government's action.

RUHR SITUATION 'BREAK' SEEN IN 30 DAYS

At the U. S. and England May Bring About Understanding, is Belief.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—The expectation prevails among some of the highest officials of the administration that the next 30 days will see a definite "break" in the tense situation that has enveloped all Europe since France occupied the Ruhr—such a possibility of British and American good offices being called upon to effect a new understanding on the controversial reparations question.

This was revealed here Wednesday with the announcement that plans for Secretary of State Hughes to attend the fifth Pan-American Conference at Santiago have virtually been abandoned.

American observers in Germany have reported to the government there is little hope of breaking down Germany's resistance to the French measures. American observers in France have likewise assured the State Department there is little likelihood of France admitting defeat.

Consequently, in the opinion of administration officials it is only a question of time until this situation—already recognized in Washington and London—is also recognized in Paris and Berlin.

The meeting between Premier Poincare and Premier Debyl, of Belgium, shortly to take place in Paris, may be productive of "important results," it was said in official quarters.

The Belgian Premier, while supporting the French policy, is nevertheless seriously concerned over the collapse of the entente with Great Britain.

South Carolina Senator Thinks Congress Ought to Go Home.

Washington, Feb. 21.—While certain test votes in the senate might be misinterpreted, Senator N. J. Dill of South Carolina is opposed both to the "shimmer" milk bill and the ship subsidy bill. He issued the following tonight:

"So far as filibustering is concerned I think the best thing congress could do would be to complete some matters of importance and adjourn without passing a bill, the fill of milk bill or any other of these abominations."

"I do not know how the senate is going to vote on the fill milk bill, but to my mind there is about as little chance for that kind of legislation as there could possibly be. It seems that congress has lost its sense of proportion and that we are dabbling in all kinds of affairs to discourage business, to increase official and to put burdens upon the people."

Higher fertilization, a good milk and an active farmer is a combination no bill would withhold, says Mr. Simmons. He doesn't attach much importance to patent law some legal enterprises."

As to the shipping bill, Senator Dill said that he is stubbornly opposed to subsidies in any form. Subsidies are wrong in principle, he said, and vicious in results.

THE REMEDY IS WORK.

Hon. Rafe Simmons, of Mississippi, one of the best informed men on agricultural conditions in Georgia, has probably found the remedy for the boll weevil in the cotton patches of the state, says the Savannah Press. It is expressed in one word—work. Our Savannah contemporary says:

"Mr. Simmons says the boll weevil can be conquered in Georgia by work. The farmer must work harder than the weevil if he is to win in the battle against him, and everybody knows the weevil is a most industrious little pest. He puts in long hours and he is in action all the time he is supposed to be on the job."

As to the shipping bill, Senator Dill said that he is stubbornly opposed to subsidies in any form. Subsidies are wrong in principle, he said, and vicious in results.

THE REMEDY IS WORK.

Hon. Rafe Simmons, of Mississippi, one of the best informed men on agricultural conditions in Georgia, has probably found the remedy for the boll weevil in the cotton patches of the state, says the Savannah Press. It is expressed in one word—work. Our Savannah contemporary says:

"Mr. Simmons says the boll weevil can be conquered in Georgia by work. The farmer must work harder than the weevil if he is to win in the battle against him, and everybody knows the weevil is a most industrious little pest. He puts in long hours and he is in action all the time he is supposed to be on the job."

Higher fertilization, a good milk and an active farmer is a combination no bill would withhold, says Mr. Simmons. He doesn't attach much importance to patent law some legal enterprises."
